

Services and Facilities Affecting Location of Business Unit

* Ashok Vasant Mahadik

Abstract

In this study I have made a sincere effort to know what are the factors which affect the location of export unit. Normally people think that all the export business units are set up in one or the other SEZ, but which is not at all correct. So I tried to find out what is SEZ?, What are the advantages to units established in SEZ ?, What are the benefits available to non SEZ business units? And what are the facilities and services which are considered while setting up an export unit.
