

Relevance of Rumi's Doctrine of Love in Modern Time

Dr. M.A. Siddiqui

Associate Professor

Head, Department of Persian

Vasantrao Naik Govt. Institute of Arts and Social Sciences, Nagpur (MS), India.

Email: mazharalamsiddiqui@yahoo.in

Abstract

In this article effort has been made to see that, whether, after passage of 8 centuries the doctrine of love of Maulana Jalaluddin Rumi is relevant in modern time or not. During research it has been found that, the modern time is not much different from the time in which Maulana Rumi had spent his life. Rumi's doctrine of love had immensely contributed in subduing the barbarous Mangol invaders and converted them into cultured and civilized people. As in modern time innocent men, women and children are also being killed by those who are guided by intellect and not by heart therefore, the doctrine of love of Mulana Rumi is very much relevant in modern time.

Keywords: Afghanistan, Balkh, Iran, Love, Mongol,